

The Caledonian Mercury.

No. 10,320.

PRICE 3d.] EDINBURGH.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1. 1787.

By the Right Hon. the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the City of Edinburgh.

WHEREAS on the night between Monday and Tuesday the 29th and 30th current, some wicked persons did feloniously break open the doors of the Library of the University of this city, and steal the UNIVERSITY MACE, a Reward of TEN GUINEAS, to be paid by all or any of the persons above mentioned, or of any person in whose possession the said Mace shall be found.

EAST POST ROAD.

THE LORD PROVOST of Edinburgh, as Prefes of the United Committee, instituted in January 1784, for opposing an additional Toll on the POST ROAD from this City, by Mullchburgh, gives notice, That a General Meeting of these Committees is to be held in the Golden Hall, on Friday the 9th November next, at twelve o'clock: And as a state of their Funds and Debts, and other affairs of importance respecting that road, are then to be taken under consideration, it is expected that all the Delegates or Representatives of the different Societies, and also, the many individuals concerned, will punctually attend, without expecting Cards or any other notice.

JAMES TAIT CLK

A Meeting against Increase of Tolls.

A very numerous Meeting of the Farmers and others in the vicinity of Edinburgh, held in the Bakers Hall, on the 31st October 1787, in order to take into their consideration the alterations proposed to be made in the Turnpike laws for the county of Edinburgh, for introducing broad wheeled carriages, by laying a toll upon manure, they were unanimously of opinion, That if the proposed alterations passed into a law, these residing in the vicinity of Edinburgh would in a very particular manner be subjected to hardships never formerly experienced.

That although by the Turnpike laws of the county of Edinburgh, stones, lime, and other material for buildings in Edinburgh, when brought in on carriages with wheels only of five inches broad, are and have been, since the year 1755, exempted from paying any toll, yet that, after so long experience, there is not one of the many hundred carts now employed in that way used with broad wheels, which affords convincing proof that broad wheels cannot with advantage be used in this part of the country.

That to mount all the carriages used for the purpose of agriculture in this part of the country upon broad wheels, would be attended with an expense which few farmers could afford, and these carriages would, when mounted, in most cases require double the power to work that is requisite for an ordinary narrow wheeled cart in the usual purposes of agriculture.

That the paying toll for dung, especially by farmers with new, or two or three miles of Edinburgh, besides being new, would subject these in the vicinity of the metropolis, to the tax, in the sense of the Legislature, understood to be collected for upholding the roads as used, is perhaps equal to quadruple of the toll or tax paid by those at a greater distance, and to three times the sum that would be requisite, with what they otherwise pay to uphold the Turnpike roads used by the farmers who drive Edinburgh dung; and that therefore such toll or tax behaved ultimately to affect the inhabitants of Edinburgh, who would consequently be affected by the alterations now proposed.

That, so far as they knew, there was no necessity for imposing such local hardships, from any general deficiency of funds for keeping up the Turnpike roads; but if any particular branch of roads in the country was found deficient in that respect, the deficiency might probably be made up by placing Toll-bars, equally near to one another in the deficient branches, as the law has authorized, as in the other branches of the county, so as to subject the travellers and others more equally to the tax, without increasing it on these just in the neighbourhood of Edinburgh.

The Meeting therefore humbly hoped, that upon matters being fully explained to the Honourable Trustees of the Turnpike Roads, they would drop the intended plan; and appointed a Committee of their number to appear by themselves or Council at the next meeting of the Trustees, humbly to remonstrate against the intended alteration in the Turnpike laws of this county; but in case they should not be able to persuade the Honourable Trustees to drop the intended alteration, the Meeting unanimously resolved to oppose such alteration in Parliament, and appointed particular persons in each parish in the neighbourhood of Edinburgh, to collect money from the different Farmers in these respective parishes, according to the quantity of dung they used, for defraying the necessary expense; and appointed any three of their number, along with Mr Thomas Scott at Craiglockhart, Prefes of the Meeting, as a Committee, to meet with Delegates from the Honourable Town Council, or any of the Incorporations or Societies in Edinburgh, who meant to oppose the intended alterations, and to take every necessary step for opposing the same; and they appointed the first meeting of their Committee to be in the Old Exchange Coffeehouse, Edinburgh, on Wednesday next the 7th November, at one o'clock afternoon; and also appointed the result of the meeting to be insert in the newspapers.

THOMAS SCOTT.

By the Right Honourable the Lord Provost, the Magistrates and Council of the City of Edinburgh.

THERE is to be LET by public roup, for one year after Martinmas, in the Council Chamber of Edinburgh, on Wednesday the 7th day of November instant, at five afternoon, the CUSTOMS of the WEIGH-HOUSE of Edinburgh, and STILL-YARD in the Grassmarket for weighing Hay; and also, the DUNG or FULZIE of the Extended Royalty, in six different quarters or divisions.

In order to give those inclining to become tackmen of the Dung proper information of the contents of the different quarters or divisions, W. Forbes, City Clerks Chamber, will, previous to the roup, give such persons a printed copy ascertaining the different boundaries.

The conditions of roup to be seen in the City Clerks Chamber.

GLASGOW, Oct. 24. 1787.

THIS EVENING,

By Desire of several of the first Ladies of the Nation,

DR KATTERFELT is to deliver his

Lecture on ELECTRICITY; after which he is to show and deliver a great variety of his OCCULT SECRETS.—His Famous MOROCCO BLACK CAT and her KITTENS will also be exhibited.—As he expects to be very much crowded by many of the first Nobility, he therefore wishes they will come or send their servants at six o'clock, as the Lecture begins at seven precisely, at Dunn's Hotel, New Town.

And to-morrow night, November the 2d, Dr KATTERFELT will show the same variety of New Discoveries on LOADSTONE, MAGNETISM, and NAVIGATION, which he has exhibited several times in London before the King and Admiralty; and if to-morrow night only, a few owners of ships or ships captains come to hear his New Discoveries, Dr Katterfelto is positively sure, that this city and Leith will gain more than 10,000 l. a-week by it, besides saving their ships and many lives.—His Grand PERPETUAL MOTION, and Mechanical Exhibition, in cloudy days, is at twelve o'clock precisely, but in a clear day he will exhibit his new-improved SOLAR MICROSCOPE, which surpasses all description.

And Dr Katterfelto must say as a Divine and Moral Philosopher, that the Grand Signior, His Holiness the Pope, the Emperor, all Kings, Queens, Princes, Dukes, Lords, Bishops, Doctors, Lawyers, Parsons, Officers, Ships Captains, Schoolmasters, Land surveyors, and all Religious People on earth, live in total darkness in this world, if they are able but will not find time to see that most wonderful exhibition, as the most wonderful works of our great Creator are seen by the help of his Philosophical Apparatus.

Admittance, day or evening, front seats Half-a-Crown, back seats 1 s for servants.

By stat. 16 Geo. II. cap. 8. f. 10. it is enacted "That no license shall be granted to any person or persons whatsoever for selling by retail any spirituous liquors or strong waters, except to such persons only who shall keep taverns, victualling houses, inns, coffee-houses, or ale-houses; and if any such licenses shall be granted to any other persons than as aforesaid, the same are declared void to all intents and purposes."—And, by the stat. 17. Geo. II. cap. 17. f. 18. it is further enacted, "That in any case where a license shall have been granted for retailing spirituous liquors to any person who shall at the time of granting such license, keep a tavern, victualling-house, or ale-house, if such person so licensed shall afterwards, during the time of continuing such license, exercise the trade of a distiller, grocer, or chandler, or keep a brandy-shop, or shops for the sale of any spirituous liquors, the license granted in every such case shall be void; and such persons retailing such spirituous liquors afterwards shall forfeit Ten Pounds for every such offence, notwithstanding such license be obtained as aforesaid."

FROM THE LONDON PAPERS, Oct. 29.

We received the following State Papers from our Correspondent at Amsterdam, by the last Dutch Mail.

Amsterdam, Oct. 22. The Commissioners who, on Thursday the 18th instant, waited on His Serene Highness the Duke of Brunswick, received from him a note in the French language, of which the following is a translation.

STATE-PAPER, No. I.

"I consider the dissolution of the Council of War, and the reinstatement of the old Colonels, Captains, and other officers, and that of the Company of Burghers, by the individuals of that corps, who were removed under various pretences in the late disturbances, as indispensably necessary and leading to the principal objects for the satisfaction and restoration of peace.

"If any individual should thereby think himself injured, he may present his grievances at a proper place. I must add further, that I expect without delay that these matters be put in execution between this and the 23d inst. It would grieve me much that by a further delay I should be compelled to take such measures, which I have on my part made it app. to you that I was ready to avoid.

General Head Quarters, at Overboom, Oct. 18, 1787. (Signed)

C. G. F. Reigning Duke of Brunswick Lunenburg.

STATE-PAPER, No. II.

"Gentlemen,
"You are fully apprised of the consequence and necessity there is for disarming that part of the militia-unconstitutionally armed, and cannot but be convinced of the concern I take in the translation, which in that respect you caused to be published on the 18th inst. I request, Gentlemen, that you render an account of the fire arms that have been delivered up to you; and what are the number of persons that were provided with them. I make no doubt, but that you have taken the requisite steps for the fulfilling of your orders, within the time agreed between us.

"You cannot be ignorant, Gentlemen, but that I have taken mine to execute the orders. I am charged with. I have the honour to be, with the greatest respect, Gentlemen,

CHARLES, G. F. Reigning Duke of Brunswick Lunenburg.

General Head Quarters, at Overboom, Oct. 21st, 1787.

To the Burghermasters and Rulers of the city of Amsterdam

Constantinople, Sept. 25. Various and uncertain are the reports here; some say that Ockfakow was taken, and that the Turks have been beaten with great slaughter; others say, that the Turkish fleet has been destroyed; but the most probable and most certain is as follows:—On the 21st instant, a boat arrived from Ockfakow, with thirteen men, out of which number twelve were much wounded, and died of the wounds they had received; they related that they were in an action against the Russians; that the Russians made an attack on the Ottoman fleet then lying at Ockfakow; the Russians had constructed several bomb-boats, by which means the Turkish Vice-Admiral's ship, of 74 guns, took fire, and blew up; two other ships of the line run on shore, and were burnt; the remainder of the Turkish fleet cut their cables, and run off.

From the ANTIGUA GAZETTE, of Sept. 5.

On Thursday last, before noon, a violent hurricane from the north-west, accompanied with excessive rain, was again most severely felt at Roseau, and through all the towns and plantations of Dominica. It continued to rage from north-west with unabating fury for above two hours, when a sudden calm commenced. The squall, however, soon rose from south-west, and continued with never-ceasing violence till near eight o'clock at night, bearing down every thing before it with rapidity and destruction. The sea raged at the same time, and buildings, standing canes, shipping, trees, plantains, and other produce, the stores, &c. &c. particularly on the beach, suffered severely.

Unfortunately the shipping in this port have sustained the following damage:—
Ship Swallow, late from the Gold Coast, wrecked in Woodbridge's Bay.

The brig Dolphin, of Bristol, wrecked at Point Mitchell. She had not broke bulk since her arrival from Newfoundland with fish.

Brig Liberty, late from Canada, and was to sail last Friday for the same place, deeply laden with produce, wrecked at Loubierre; and, with the former brig, entirely lost.

Brig Delight, loaded for Ireland, stranded at Roseau River.

The sloop Nancy, belonging to James Laing, Esq; on shore at Souffrier.

A French sloop, name unknown, also ashore near the same place.

The sloop Betsey, also on shore.

The brig Henry and Eliza rode out the storm undamaged.

The ship Caton, with the brigs Queen Charlotte and Nancy, put to sea, and arrived at this port yesterday, having sustained but little damage.

Brig Aurora, Captain De Caen, was drove on shore, and went to pieces.

Roseau, Aug. 31. By advices received on Wednesday from Martinique, we learn, that the gale on Thursday se'ennight, which did so much damage here, had driven fourteen sail of vessels on shore there; and it is said that great damage had been sustained on land.

It is with inexpressible sorrow we sit down to give a detail of the very severe and unexpected gale of wind that happened here on Wednesday morning last, which has nearly effected what the fury of the elements seemed before to aim at—the almost total destruction of the plantations in general throughout this already sufficiently distressed island. About the hours of three and four o'clock in the morning, it set in with heavy rain, and in a little time began to blow very hard from the South West, which continued with unexampled fury for near an hour, in which time the ship Caton, nearly loaded, and about to sail, (and which had the good fortune to get out timely the gale before) was stranded at the mouth of the river Roseau, and so much damaged that the masts broke up. Every article in the cabin was washed away, by which, we are peculiarly sorry to add, that Captain Fell, whose fortitude and perseverance, as well in this as in other instances, had been sufficiently tried, and who bears the most amiable character, lost a large sum in cash, besides other valuable property to a large amount. The cargo is said to be worth 10,000 l.

The brig Queen Charlotte, consigned to Thomas Gudgeon, Esq; was also driven on shore near the same place; but the wind shifting about six o'clock nearly east, she got off with very little damage; and rode out the work of the storm at sea; for, from that time till past seven, it blew a perfect hurricane, with so much violence, that the like has not been experienced here these fifteen years past.

Very few buildings in the country are said to have been able to withstand it, for such as have not been blown to pieces, are in so bad a condition that it is dangerous to occupy them.

The principal houses and all the barracks on Mourne Bruce are blown down: by which, we are sorry to add, the Hon. Mr Gore, of the 30th regiment, was dangerously wounded, inasmuch that his recovery was for some time doubtful; but we are happy to hear that he is now out of danger.

Captain Masterton, of the same regiment, was also much hurt, but happily not dangerously. Two others of the officers were somewhat hurt; but we have the pleasure to learn, that they are all recovering fast.

Many of the men are said to have been much hurt, some of them mortally; but we have not heard of any of them since dead. The whole regiment have been obliged to abandon the hill, and are therefore quartered in town.

The newly erected barracks at Prince Rupert's Bay has been blown down, but the magazine happily escaped. We have not heard of any people having been hurt. It is said to have blown so hard there, that the buildings were carried from one plantation to another; and a sheet of lead of four hundred weight was blown upwards of three hundred yards.

The Queen Charlotte arrived last evening, with the loss of her foremast and bowsprit.

The brig Henry and Eliza, Captain Arundell, put to sea at the beginning of the gale, and has since got into Prince Rupert's Bay, with the loss of her masts, sails, &c.

The buildings in town suffered considerably, many having been blown down, and a great number stripped, particularly the tiled houses: the fences, sheds, &c. were almost all blown to pieces. But we have the consolation to observe, that the damage which the town has sustained is less than we had every reason to apprehend, from the excessive violence of the storm, the short duration of which, as it was the means of our preservation, ought to be considered as the merciful dispensation of Providence, which, while it chastens, spares.

From the Grenada Gazette, August 25.

The troops lately arrived at Martinico have long been expected, as appears from the following extract of a letter from Brett, dated the 16th of April last:

"The Squadron commanded by Monsieur Tournay, who is going to the West Indies to the station at Martinico, is composed of the following ships: L'Amirique, of 60 guns, the flag ship; la Sagelle, of 48 guns, la Fiere, of 30, la Vesta of 22, and la Puce of 16 guns. The regiment of Neutrice, la Blanche, and Dijon, at least detachments from them, are arrived here, to be embarked on board the above Squadron, in order to relieve or reinforce the garrison in the Leeward Islands."

EXTRACTS FROM THE JAMAICA PAPERS, brought by the Mail which arrived on Friday from Jamaica.

Kingston, Sept. 8. His Majesty's ships Camilla and Cygnets, from the Musquito shore, but last from Truxillo, arrived at Port Royal on Thursday last. Prior to their departure the evacuation was entirely completed, and the Shore left in possession of the Spaniards. Major Lowrie came passenger in one of the above vessels.

Monday se'ennight a General Court Martial was held at Montego Bay, to try Lieutenant Anth. Morris, of the Westmoreland troop of horse, for neglect of duty. The defendant not appearing to answer the charge, proof was adduced that he had received five days notice of trial, and the evidence of Captain Harry Younge being taken, as to the nature of the offence, he was found guilty, and fined fifty pounds.

Saturday se'ennight, arrived at Old Harbour, in an open canoe, one Elias Bascome, belonging to the island of Grenada, from off the coast of which he had been driven in a violent gale, on the 7th of last month; and being unable to regain it, or to reach any of the Windward Islands, he was forced to commit his vessel to the guidance of the winds.

This unfortunate man, during the nineteen days he was at sea, had no other sustenance for himself and a negro; but a few pounds of salt beef and some pease, which he happened luckily to have in the boat with him, and such fish as he could catch by accident, not having any tackle on board for that purpose. Rain water was his only drink, with which he had frequent opportunities of being supplied in the course of his voyage.

The above wonderful story may be considered as one of the most miraculous escapes that is recorded in history, and is undoubtedly true in every particular. The distance between Grenada and Jamaica, in a straight line, is upwards of eleven hundred miles, and the vessel in which this amazing journey was performed, is no more than eighteen feet long, from stem to stern, and four feet six inches wide upon the beam.

Dominica, June 25. Friday last, between the hours of five and six in the afternoon, a Gentleman was robbed near the arsenal, by a horseman, who accosted him in the following singular manner:—

"How dost do, friend?" (with a well imitated Quaker nod). "Wilt thou be so kind as to tell me which ferry I must cross to go to Lascasser?" Having obtained his request, he proceeded—"As thou seemest to be a man of a kind make, I will venture to solicit a little cash to bear my expenses!" To this, the Gentleman surprised, but not suspicious of any evil design, replied, "From your horse and apparel, Sir, you do not appear to be a needy man; besides, as I am not in a situation for making presents, you must excuse me." "I am very sorry," returned he, with that kind of cool deliberation that usually designates real concern of mind, "that a man of thy profession, for I perceive that you are a clergyman, should be so devoid of faith and charity; however, here is a little instrument," taking a pistol from the left breast of his coat; "that shall either endue thee with both these excellent gifts, or chastise thee for the want of them." With those words, which were pronounced in a determined but not wrathful tone, he dismounted; and while with one hand he pointed his pistol to the Gentleman's breast, with the other he rifled his pockets of twenty dollars, and some papers, the latter of which he restored. Having effected his purpose, he, with an affected air of clerical authority, subjoined this admonition, "Be no more faithless, but believe, nor shut thy bowels against the necessities of the poor. Fare thee well." As he pronounced these last words, he sprung into the saddle with a single bound, and rode off at full speed towards the side road.

This inimitable cool and well-bred robber personated the Quaker in his dress as well as style. His hat was a true modern broad brim; his coat, vest, and breeches were of snuff-coloured cambric; and of the plainest cut; his stockings of the same colour, but whether silk or worsted, is not known; his knee-bands and shoes were tied with strings. He appears to be a native of Old England.

He is tall, perhaps six feet high, and very good-looking, though somewhat round shouldered; his hair dark and lank; his address graceful and firm, and his activity uncommon; he rode a sprightly bay horse well trained, and in good condition, and had on him a small portmanteau which appeared to be well filled, very probably with different changes of apparel.

L O N D O N, — Oct. 29.

This morning, the Prince of Wales will set out for Newmarket; to be present at the races, which begin this day.

Last night, a little past nine o'clock, two mail-guards arrived in town with dispatches from Mr. Hamilton, for Mr. Pitt and Lord Sydney, containing the melancholy intelligence of the death of His Excellency the Duke of Rutland, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland;—the particulars of which are as follow:

His Excellency, a day or two after his return to his residence in Phoenix Park, from his late tour through Ireland, complained of being feverish; and upon his physicians being consulted, their opinion was, that owing to the violent living his Grace was obliged to submit to, during an excursion of three months—together with hard riding—his blood was extremely heated. Let it too be added, that his Grace travelled frequently seventy miles a day on horseback, during his absence.

On the 10th instant, eight days after the period of the tour aforementioned, His Excellency's malady increased, so as to confine him to his chamber. The best skill was instantly called in, amongst whom Doctor Quin, Mr. Neale, the surgeon, and others of the Faculty, are to be noticed. His disorder growing more violent, the Doctors Warren and Knox, were sent to— and the latter gentleman is actually now on his way to Holyhead.

Skill, however, could have been of little avail. His Excellency died last Wednesday, a little past nine in the evening. His body was opened early the next morning, when his liver appeared so much decayed and wasted, as to render his recovery impossible.

During the Duke's illness, among other friends who scarcely ever left his Grace's Chamber, or the Anti-chamber, Mr. Finch, and Mr. Hamilton, his Secretary, are to be mentioned.

A circumstance attending the above calamity, which is highly to be regretted, is, that her Grace the Duchess of Rutland set out yesterday morning, at twelve o'clock, from the Duchess of Devon's, on her way to Holyhead, and proposed travelling night and day;—and what adds to the mortification, is, that although three couriers were on the road with the unpleasant intelligence aforementioned, they all missed her Grace, owing to her taking the Huntingdon road. A messenger was, however, dispatched last night by the Duchess of Devon, to bring her back.

The Earl of Salisbury is named as his Grace's successor to Ireland,—and the vacant blue ribbon, occasioned by his death, is expected to go with that appointment.

Should the Earl of Salisbury go Viceroy to Ireland, as in all probability his Lordship will, his office of Chamberlain is expected to fall to the Duke of Dorset,—and the Duke's Embassy to France be filled by the Marquis of Buckingham.

The Parliament will certainly meet next month, agreeable to the call announced in the Gazette; circular letters to this effect were on Friday last dispatched to all the Treasury members, and their presence required at the House.

On Saturday arrived a mail from the Leeward Islands, which brought over dispatches from Governor Shirley and Commodore Parker, who is naval Commander on that station.

A letter from Pool, dated Oct. 28, says, the Hawke, from Newfoundland, arrived there; spoke a few days ago six French men of war, in long. 23. lat. 48. 30. two of them of the line; they were from Bolton bound to France, one in a leaky condition; (they asked if peace or war?) An express was sent from France to Bolton to order them home.

It is reported from good authority, that the differences betwixt our Court and that of France have been made up. But what good authority, says a correspondent, can this be? Every one knows that Holland is no longer in question; and yet our preparations are going on, and Sir Edmund Aylack, with eighteen ships of the line, has just sailed from Spithead. Does this look as if differences were made up?

Contradictory as the above reports and facts may be, there is reason to think that the conduct (however secret) of the French in the East and West Indies, is the principal cause of our present armaments; and that that conduct has not yet been so satisfactorily explained as to justify the Minister in disarming our naval force.

The mails which arrived from Holland on Saturday, contain nothing material; all is quiet there, nor is there any confirmation of the reports that the King of Prussia's troops would not leave Amsterdam, before being paid for their trouble. There is no doubt that the Duke of Brunswick will be amply recompensed for what he has done, but not in the hostile manner alluded to.

Our letters from France advise, that the following men of war are now fitting out in the several ports of that kingdom, as against each expressed:

At Brest—Five ships of three decks, five ditto of 80 guns ready; 19 ditto of 74 guns, which will be ready the latter end of November; two frigates of 18 guns; 14 ditto of twelve; and 15 corvettes.

At Toulon.—One ship of 80 guns; seven ships of 74 guns, to be ready by the end of November; four frigates of 18 and 12 guns.

At Rochfort.—One ship of 64 guns, and four frigates of 12.

Our last letters from Madrid confirm the intelligence, that orders had been sent to Cadiz, to fit out a Squadron with all possible expedition.

The same letters bring authentic state of the Spanish naval armament, as follows:

very general, his hair dark, his eyes brown, his nose straight, and his lips full. He appeared to be a man of moderate size, and his countenance was not particularly striking. He was dressed in a dark coat, and his manners were polite and reserved. He was accompanied by a French officer, who was also of moderate size, and his countenance was not particularly striking. He was dressed in a dark coat, and his manners were polite and reserved. He was accompanied by a French officer, who was also of moderate size, and his countenance was not particularly striking. He was dressed in a dark coat, and his manners were polite and reserved.

THE Lands of Harlaw, and Teinds thereof, lying in the parish of Woodrother, within eight measured miles of Lauder and four of Greenlaw, which are both market towns. They consist of 1224 acres statute measure, whereof 364 are arable and meadow. The present free rent is upwards of 100l. for which they were let above twenty years ago to one tenant; but as the tack is now expired, and the lands are capable of great improvement, having easy access to lime by the turnpike road from Edinburgh to London by Greenlaw, which passes alongside of them, a very considerable rise of rent may be expected. These lands hold of the Crown, and are valued in the cess-books of the county at 319l. Scots. The teinds are valued, and are exhausted by the stipend presently payable to the minister of Woodrother.
The title-deeds, which are clear, with the plan of the lands, are in the hands of Matthew Sandilands, writer to the signet, who has power to conclude a private bargain any time before the day of sale.
N.B. If the lands are not sold on or before the day of sale, they will be LET on a lease of twenty-one years, to commence at Whitsunday first.

Salmon Fishings to be Let.
UPON Friday the 24 day of November next, betwixt the hours of four and five o'clock afternoon, within the house of John Burt vintner in Perth, The whole FISHINGS in the River Tay, belonging to John Hay Balfour, Esq. of Leyds, are to be let by public roup, for a number of years to commence at the ensuing fishing season.
These fishings are of great extent, stretching along the south side of the River, betwixt the lands of Carpow, and the Pow of Lindores, being about a mile and an half in length, and by reason of Mugdrum Island lying in the middle of the river, and running nearly the same length as above, the hawling places are double to those on the land side. The fishermen can haul their nets on the land side, and on both sides of the island. They have employed upwards of twenty boats in a season, and great numbers of salmon have been caught there.
The shore of Newburgh lies on the side of these fishings, and a cellar for preserving ice could be made at a small expense in the back brew of Mugdrum, having a north exposure, and lying also contiguous to the fishings.—These circumstances must be of great convenience and advantage to such as would send the Salmon fresh to the London market; and a vessel generally in every eight or ten days sails from Newburgh for London.
Any person inclining to make a private bargain, may give in their proposals betwixt and the day of roup, to the proprietor at Mugdrum, by Perth.

SALE ADJOURNED.
To be SOLD by public auction, within the King's Arms Tavern in Dumfries, on Wednesday the 7th of November 1787, betwixt four and five afternoon,
THE Lands and Estate of BLAIKET and MARKFAST, and Teinds of the same, lying in the parish of Urr, and stewartry of Kirkcudbright. The lands contain about 321 acres, are situated within eleven English miles of the town of Dumfries, on the great road leading from thence to Port-Patrick, and are within four miles of a harbour in the water of Urr, convenient for exporting grain, or importing lime, &c.
They are let for about 265 l. yearly, and afford an undoubted freehold qualification, and the teinds were valued in the year 1767.
The title-deeds and articles of sale, to be seen in the hands of Mr Hugh Corrie, writer to the signet, Edinburgh; or Mr Goldie, Commissary of Dumfries; or of Mr Aitken, one of the town-clerks there.

BY ADJOURNMENT.
Sale of the Estate of Redcastle, IN ONE OR TWO LOTS.
TO be SOLD by public roup, within the Old Exchange Coffeehouse, Edinburgh, upon Wednesday the 21st day of November 1787, at six o'clock afternoon,
The Lands and Barony of REDCASTLE, lying in the parishes of Kilmarnock and Kilmuir-Welter, and county of Ross. These lands hold of the Crown, and are valued in the cess-books of the county at 1491 l. At a moderate conversion of the value, they yield yearly rent about 1300 l. Sterling; and being very extensive, and still in their natural state, they are capable of great improvement. Their situation is uncommonly agreeable. They lie along the navigable firth of Beaulie, which bounds them on the south, for the space of about five miles. They are distant from the burgh of Inverness only about two miles. The soil is of an exceeding good quality, dry and healthy; and, owing to the south exposure, the crops are more early than in the most southerly parts of Scotland. The mansion-house is fit to accommodate a large family. The gardens are extensive, and yield fruits of all kinds in great plenty, early, and of the best quality. There is a considerable salmon-fishing upon the estate, and white fish, and shell fish of all kinds. The low-country game upon it is plenty; and all sorts of Highland game within a few miles of it. There is some natural wood, and the plantations upon the estate are extensive, and in thriving condition.
Any of the tenants upon the estate will shew the lands; and the rentals title-deeds, and articles of roup are to be seen in the hands of John Tait writer to the signet, Park Place, Edinburgh; and to whom any person may apply who wishes to purchase by private bargain.

JUDICIAL SALE OF LANDS AND FISHERIES, In the Island of Illy, Argyllshire.
THE Lands and Estate of SUNDERLAND, lying in the island of Illy, and county of Argyll, is to be exposed to public judicial roup and sale, by authority of the Court of Session, within the Parliament or new Session-house of Edinburgh, upon Wednesday the 5th day of December next, betwixt the hours of five and seven afternoon.
The free rent of the estate, after all deductions, as proved in the course of the process of sale, is 303 l. 1 s. 10 d. 6-12ths Sterling; and the proven value, at which the same is to be exposed to sale is 7216 l. 10 s. 4 d. 5-12ths Sterling.
The estate consists of the different farms of Sunderland, Sunderland Park, and Feorland, the lands of Coul, with the pendicle called Machrie, the lands of Coulcarrach, and the very extensive farm and grazing of Cladville.
The lands are well known to be very extensive, remarkable for yielding good crops and rearing black cattle of the best quality, besides containing a stretch of coast particularly well calculated for the fisheries. On the farm of Cladville, which is well adapted for a village, is the famous fishing station of Portnahaven; and there are two fishing-banks off the farm of Coul, as well as off Portnahaven, remarkable for the largest and best kind of cod. There were salt-pans erected at Portnahaven many years ago, which may be carried on with advantage.
There was also a good rabbit warren at Coul; and there is some natural wood upon Sunderland and Feorland, of considerable value in that part of the country; and there is promising appearance of a lead mine at Cladville. These several advantages, together with a situation so peculiarly calculated for the fisheries, must satisfy every enquirer, that this property which has been hitherto in a state of nature, is capable of very great and substantial improvement.
There has accordingly been a rise of about 30 l. Sterling yearly to the rent, since the proof in the sale was taken; so that the present free rent is 333 l. 11 s. 10 d. 3-12ths. The teinds have been low valued many years ago, and are in a great measure exhausted by the stipend payable to the minister, which is deducted from the above rental.
The articles and conditions of sale will be seen in the office of Alexander Stevenson, one of the deputy-clerks of Session, and clerk to the process of sale. The present tenants will shew the lands, and point out their boundaries. And any desirous to be informed of further particulars may apply to John Macneil writer in Inveraray, factor on the estate, or to James Fraser writer to the signet, agent in the sale.
A plan of this Estate has lately been made out, which may be seen in the hands of James Fraser, written to the signet.

These lands are situated in a rich country, are capable of great improvement; and being out of lease at present, a considerable rise of rent may be expected.
The title-deeds, rental, plan and measurement of the lands, and articles of roup, may be seen in the hands of George Kirkpatrick, deputy-clerk of Session. And for further information, application may be made to John Gordon clerk to the signet, agent in the sale, or to William Nicol advocate in Aberdeen.

Upset Price under twenty-one years purchase.
TO be SOLD by public roup, on Monday the 19th November next, in the Coffeehouse, within the Royal Exchange of Edinburgh, between the hours of five and seven o'clock afternoon,
The Barony & Estate of Barrowfield, all lying contiguous, in the Barony parish of Glasgow, and shire of Lanark.
The gross rent for crop 1787, is L. 1236 10 s. 4 d.
From which deducting the feu and teind-duty; the land-tax at four shillings in the pound; school salary, and other public burdens, 59 3 s. 8 d.
There remains, L. 1177 7 s. 6 d.
of constant rent, which is punctually paid by the tenants and feuars—it is believed there are few estates in Scotland on which the arrears are so inconsiderable.
This estate is in some degree the boundary of the city of Glasgow on the east; and there is a constant demand on that side for ground to build on. Notwithstanding the check given to the trade and manufactures of the town by the late war, an increase of almost 300 l. a-year has been made to the rental by building-feus since 1770. The feus have been chiefly granted to manufacturers; and as the number and opulence of that description of the inhabitants are daily increasing, there can be no doubt that there must be a constant increase of the demand for ground, by which the rent of this estate must rise very rapidly, without trouble or expense to the proprietor. In 1784, the increase of the rental from feuing was only 61 l. 16 s.—In 1785, it was 63 l. 13 s.—In 1786 and 1787, it was 73 l. 6 s. and in these last years it would have been more, but it was the less attended to, on account of the projected sale of the lands. The houses built on the feued ground give the most undoubted security for the feu-duty, which hitherto has been very moderate, and has always been most punctually paid. The casualties payable by heirs and singular successors amount to a considerable sum yearly, which is not included in the rental, and these should do considerably more than pay the expense of management, in case the purchaser chooses to uplift the rents by a factor.
There are a good mansion-house and offices on the estate, well fitted for the accommodation of a large family, and situated near the Clyde, to the bank of which the estate extends.—The garden is large, of a good soil, and stocked with fruit trees of the best kinds.
There is also a quantity of valuable timber on the grounds, valued at near a 1000 l. great part of which may be cut, without hurting the look of the place.
The barony of Barrowfield is valued in the cess-books at 975 l. Scots, and this valuation has been subdivided by the Commissioners of Supply; and as the progress and title-deeds are perfectly complete, two freehold qualifications, and almost the half of a third may be made upon it, at little or no expense.
The teinds either belong to the proprietor, or are bishops teinds of the Barony of Glasgow, of which the town of Glasgow have had tacks for time immemorial. These are from time to time renewed in Exchequer, and the benefit of them the town is taken bound to communicate to the heritors. The proportion of teind tack-duty payable for this estate is included in the above-mentioned 59 l. 3 s. 8 d. deducted for public burdens.
Upon the whole, it may be observed of this estate, that although its extent of land be not great, yet from its vicinity to the city of Glasgow, the punctual payment of the rents and feu-duties; and the certainty of an increase of rental by additional feus, it is a very desirable purchase for such persons or communities as wish to have their money well secured upon landed property.
The upset price of the whole will be 22,500 l. which is not twenty-one years purchase of the rents and feu-duties, and only four years purchase of the rent of the coal, which amounts to 110 l. Sterling. If the purchaser inclines, it is probable that great part of the price will continue in his hands upon heritable bonds already secured on the estate.
If the estate is not sold together, it will be sold in the following lots:
LOT I. The House, Garden, and sundry Fields round them, L. 162 10 s.
Which will be set up at L. 3600.
LOT II. Camachie Parks, Gatefield, Mill and Mill lands, and Feus of Camachie, 177 0 s.
Which will be set up at L. 3400.

Which will be set up at L. 2800.

For particulars apply to Lawrence Hill writer to the signet, who will show the rental, plan of the estate, progress of writs, and also the factory accounts to prove the regular payment of the rents and feu-duties for the last five years.
Persons inclining to purchase by private bargain may apply to the proprietor at Glasgow, or to Mr Hill, or to Mr Alexander Robertson writer in Glasgow.
